

NATALIE BRUNELLE

Natalie has been interested in the theatre world since she can remember. In fact, one of her biggest regrets in life is not persuading her passion for script writing and being on stage upon graduating high school. Thankfully, becoming a drama teacher gave her the opportunity to stay in touch with what she loves in allowing to write and direct numerous productions with her students. She has worn many hats backstage throughout the years but she finally took the chance to get back on stage in 2018, by joining the Huronia Players Theatre Company in Midland Ontario. Thanks to that push, she feels she got bit by the theatre bug all over again.
